

Update on LLAA Articles and By-laws Consistency – Don Ford

The By-Laws can say whatever the memberships wants them to say as long as they meet the following conditions: it is not in conflict with our Aol, state or federal laws and have been adopted in the prescribed manner as set forth in our Aol and/or our legally adopted By-Laws. I am unsure where these proposals for change came (Scholarship Committee, Board, Individuals/groups, etc), but whatever source, it is clearly an example of overreach.

In order to avoid too much confusion, we continue to function as we have been, waiting for the TF on Aol and By-Laws reconciliation report with its findings and recommendations
